

Oilseeds: World Markets and Trade

Oil's Importance Diminishes in U.S. Soybean Crush

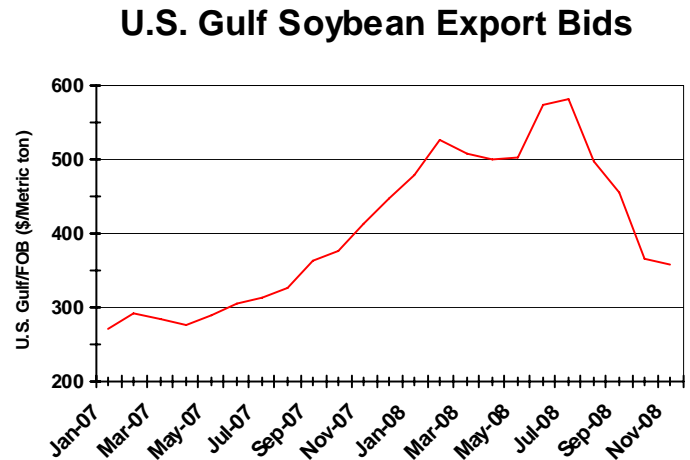

Falling U.S. soybean oil prices have reduced the value of oil relative to the value of meal as a share of the soybean price. The oil share has fallen from a peak of 45 percent at mid-year to historic norms of less than 35 percent (For an historical perspective on product share values in soybeans, please refer to the October 2007 oilseeds circular). Consequently, soybean crush is again being driven by meal demand. However, processors are facing a slowing U.S. economy and increasing competition from corn by-products leading to a significant decline in U.S. crush.

PRICES

The November U.S. soybean export bids, FOB Gulf, averaged $358 per ton, down $8 from October. Even with significant changes in global soybean trade, macroeconomic developments continue to pressure soybean prices.

As of weekending November 27, total commitments (outstanding sales plus accumulated exports) of U.S. soybean sales totaled 17.6 million tons, compared to 18.2 million the same period last year.

TRADE CHANGES IN 2008/09

- U.S. soybean exports are raised 0.8 million tons to 28.6 million due to reduced availability of South American crops.
- Argentina's soybean exports are slashed 0.5 million tons to 14.7 million due to lower exportable supplies.
- Brazil's soybean exports are lowered 0.35 million tons to 23.3 million due to a reduced crop prospects.
- Paraguay's soybean exports are cut 0.7 million tons to 4.7 million with a smaller crop anticipated.
- Canada's rapeseed exports are raised 0.6 million tons to 5.9 million in response to a record crop estimate.
- China's rapeseed imports are boosted 0.4 million tons to 1.05 million due to a greater availability in Canada, the key supplying country.
- Ukraine's sunflowerseed exports are up 0.2 million tons to 0.55 million with a record crop expected.
- Sunflowerseed imports for the EU 27 are raised 0.3 million tons to 0.65 million in response to greater availability in Eastern Europe.
- India's palm oil imports are raised 0.3 million tons to 4.9 million as stronger demand is projected.
