

Oilseeds: World Markets and Trade

Growing Fuel Use Limits Exports of Soybean Oil by South America

12.7 Million Tons

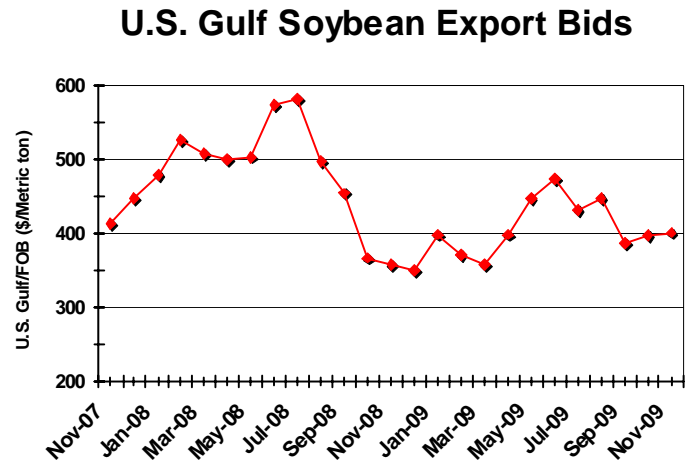

13.3 Million Tons

South America's soybean oil exports are forecast to remain significantly smaller than the level reached three years earlier, as more soy oil is shifted to fuel use. This rise in fuel use is a response to growing demand for biodiesel, as Brazil expands its domestic use, stimulated by increasing biodiesel blending mandates that will reach 5 percent in 2010. In Argentina, soy-based biodiesel exports surpassed 1 million tons this year from 55,000 tons just three years ago, driven primarily by demand from the EU. Consequently, importers relying on South American soybean oil may need to turn to alternative suppliers such as the United States, or shift to other vegetable oils such as palm oil.

PRICES

U.S. soybean export bids, FOB Gulf, in the first week in November averaged $400 per ton, a marginal increase from last month. Harvest pressure and China's demand continue to support prices despite influence from non-market factors.

As of week-ending October 29, 2009, U.S. soybean sales commitments (outstanding sales plus accumulated exports) to China totaled 14.2 million tons, compared to 7.6 million a year ago. Total commitments to the world amounted to 23.5 million tons compared to 15.1 million the same period last year.

TRADE CHANGES IN 2009/10

- U.S. soybean exports are boosted 0.5 million tons to a record 36.1 million supported by stronger demand in China and improved access to the EU.
- Argentina's soybean exports are up 0.5 million tons to 10.2 million supported by larger exportable supplies and stronger demand in overseas.
- Brazil's soybean exports are up 0.3 million tons to 23.9 million supported by larger exportable supplies and improved demand overseas.
- China's soybean imports are boosted 1.0 million tons to 40.5 million supported by stronger crush and subsequent demand for soy meal in feed use.
- EU-27 soybean imports are up 0.3 million tons to 12.7 million supported by prospects of improved crush in response to demand for soy meal.
- China's palm oil imports are up 0.3 million tons to 6.3 million supported by rising vegetable oil use.
- Canada's rapeseed exports are cut 0.3 million tons to 5.8 million due mainly to smaller exportable supplies.
