

Oilseeds: World Markets and Trade

Gap Shrinks between Global Soybean Production and Consumption

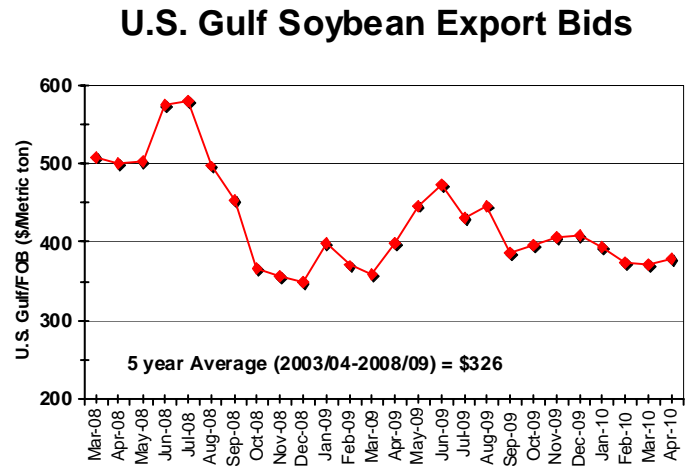

The gap between global soybean production and consumption is forecast to tighten in 2010/2011. Production in key producing countries is expected to moderate from last year's record level. At the same time, global consumption continues to grow, largely fueled by expanding demand for protein meal for animal feed. This is particularly the case in China, which is forecast to account for nearly 60 percent of global soybean import demand. Despite the projected shrinking surplus, the strong rebound in carry-in stocks may be sufficient to dampen stronger prices that may be caused by a production shortfall for crops that have not yet been planted; as is the case in South America where crops will not be planted for another five months.

PRICES

U.S. soybean export bids, FOB Gulf, in April averaged $379 per ton, slightly higher than last month as the unusually strong export pace tightens stocks of old crop.

As of the week-ending April 29, 2010, U.S. soybean sales commitments (outstanding sales plus accumulated exports) to China totaled 21.9 million tons, compared to 18.2 million a year ago. Total commitments to the world amounted to 37.4 million tons compared to 32.4 million for the same period last year.

TRADE CHANGES IN 2009/10 & OUTLOOK FOR 2010/11

- U.S. soybean exports are boosted 0.3 million tons to a record 39.6 million supported by the unusually strong export pace. For 2010/11, exports are forecast at 36.7 million tons, lower than the 2009/10 level on intensive competition from South America.
- Combined Brazil's and Argentina's soybean exports are raised 2.5 million tons to 35.9 million driven by strong overseas' demand, mainly from China. For 2010/11, the two countries' combined exports are forecast at 41.4 million tons.
- China's soybean imports are up 2.5 million tons to a record 46.0 million spurred by stronger demand for crush. For 2010/11, imports are forecast at 49.0 million tons as demand for soybean products is expected to rise.
- Canada's rapeseed exports are boosted 0.2 million tons to 6.7 million supported by large shipments to Mexico. For 2010/11, exports are forecast at 7.1 million tons.
