

Oilseeds: World Markets and Trade

U.S. Soybean Meal Exports Propelled Higher by Strong Global Demand

U.S. soybean meal exports are poised to finish the 2013/14 marketing year (Oct-Sep) in record territory, propelled by the record sales pace through July. With strong global demand, this heightened pace has continued into 2014/15 with early season sales running more than three times above historic norms. Robust demand for U.S. soybean meal is attributed to a growing availability of exportable supplies, lower prices, and renewed competitiveness in international markets.

With a record soybean crop currently forecast for 2014, soybeans and products prices are expected to decline as last season's tight supply situation improves. Ample soybean supplies will allow meal production to easily meet both domestic and foreign demand. Lower prices are expected to spark buyer interest in purchasing meal. With other major exporters showing limited or no growth in the coming year, buyers will find opportunities in the United States to secure additional meal, especially for Hi-Pro (48 percent protein) soybean meal.

OVERVIEW

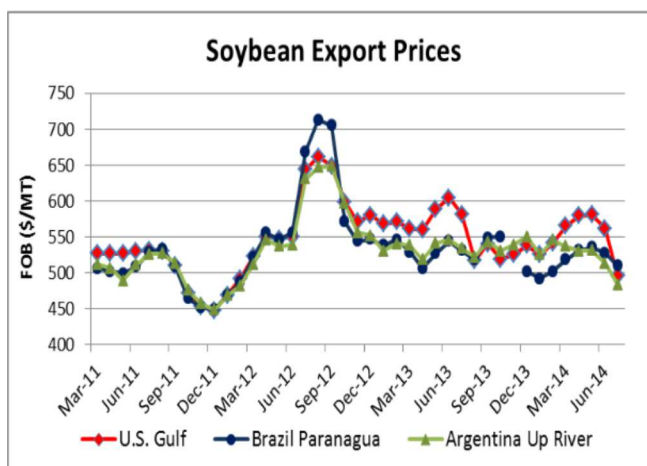

For 2014/15, global soybean production is down slightly as a reduced crop for India more than offsets larger production for the United States. Global trade is up with stronger imports by Bangladesh, Indonesia, Mexico, and Turkey. Global trade for soybean meal is lower, while slightly higher for oil. The season average U.S. farm price is lowered.

For 2013/14, global soybean production is up slightly with a larger crop in South Africa. World trade is boosted with larger imports for Bangladesh, Indonesia, Mexico, and Turkey. Exports by Brazil and the United States are also raised. Global soybean meal trade is lower, while slightly higher for oil. The season average U.S. farm price is unchanged.

SOYBEAN PRICES

U.S. export bids, FOB Gulf, in July averaged $496 per ton, down $66 from last month. The seasonal decline is attributed to the prospect of a bumper crop in the fall.

As of the week-ending July 31, U.S. soybean commitments (outstanding sales plus accumulated exports) to China totaled 28.1 million tons compared to 21.6 million a year ago. Total commitments to the world are 46.1 million tons, compared to 37.2 million for the same period last year.

2014/15 TRADE OUTLOOK

- Argentina's soybean meal exports are cut 300,000 tons to 29.5 million on expected slower pace.
